3. Details

The products mentioned above are "Evaluation Product" products, and thus not within Toradex's "Volume Product" program. Toradex therefore does not provide any long-term availability guarantees for these products. The products will be discontinued.

Toradex will provide new capacitive display products with the same screen size (7" and 10.1"), but different mechanical dimensions of the glass. The touch controller will also be different and not software compatible with the old EOL displays. The new displays are planned to be available in the first half of 2017.
